

WOOD BADGE is the ultimate leadership training program for volunteers involved in all levels of Scouting (Cub Scouts, Scouts BSA, Venturing, district, or council positions).

The first Wood Badge training was organized by Francis "Skipper" Gidney and lectured by Robert Baden-Powell and others at Gilwell Park (United Kingdom) in September 1919.

Wood Badge training has since spread across the world with international variations.

Upon completion of this training, you will join thousands of other leaders around the world, who are dedicating themselves to passing on the ideals of scouting.

"The Wood Badge course ignited an enthusiasm for scouting in my heart that I hadn't felt before. It inspired me to make a candid assessment of myself and to consciously practice the Scout Oath and Law in my day to day activities. I'm a better adult leader because of it."
Sam W3-41-17

Being a scouter for many years, I thought I knew what to expect. I was completely wrong. I thought that it would be the same as previous training courses I have taken both in scouts and in my professional career, but the amount of information that was given to me from the staff at WB was way beyond what I expected. This course has helped me with the 2 scout units I work with, and also with my co-workers and employer. It has given me tools to use in my every day life with my family. This by far was the best training course I could have asked for.
Tom W3-41-17

"The training has helped me broaden my horizon of different perspectives regarding scouting. I met many new people, made new friends, from other councils as well as from our own. The collection of dedicated people are the true inspiration."
Bin W3-35-15

Wood Badge consists of two parts. The first part is a five-day experience where you will spend time at Scout camps learning leadership skills in order to better serve your BSA unit. These skills are also invaluable to all aspects of your Scouting, business and personal life.

During the second part, (the 18 month following the 5-day experience), participants work on their personal goals made during the five days. Upon successful completion of Wood Badge, Scouters receive their beads and neckerchief of recognition.
